Release of Student Information to Supplemental Education Service (SES) Providers

The U. S. Office of Education requires that the district obtain written consent from you, the parent, in order to release some of your child's information to the provider that you selected. The information that will be shared with the provider will assist them in designing a program for your child that will enhance the academic program that your child receives at school. The U. S. Office of Education does require that the Supplemental Service Provider maintain the confidentiality of all of your child's information. They may not disclose any information about your child without further permission.

This request allows the district to share the following information with your selected provider: your name and your child's name, address, and phone number; some of your child's academic information (such as test scores, grades, and subject matter assessments); and for student with disabilities, the IEP or 504 plan goals.

Please check below if you agree to have AUSD release the above information to the Supplemental Educational Service Provider you have chosen.

I agree the district may release information about my child to the selected provider.

Do not disclose my child's school information.
